Big brother for the paravento room structuring system: paravento XL paravento XL is a modular partitioning system consisting of free-standing partition walls that support acoustic and visual discretion. Developed by ophelis in a customer project, this trend wall system allows rooms to be subdivided independently of walls, group offices to be better zoned and visitor areas to be screened off.

Product features

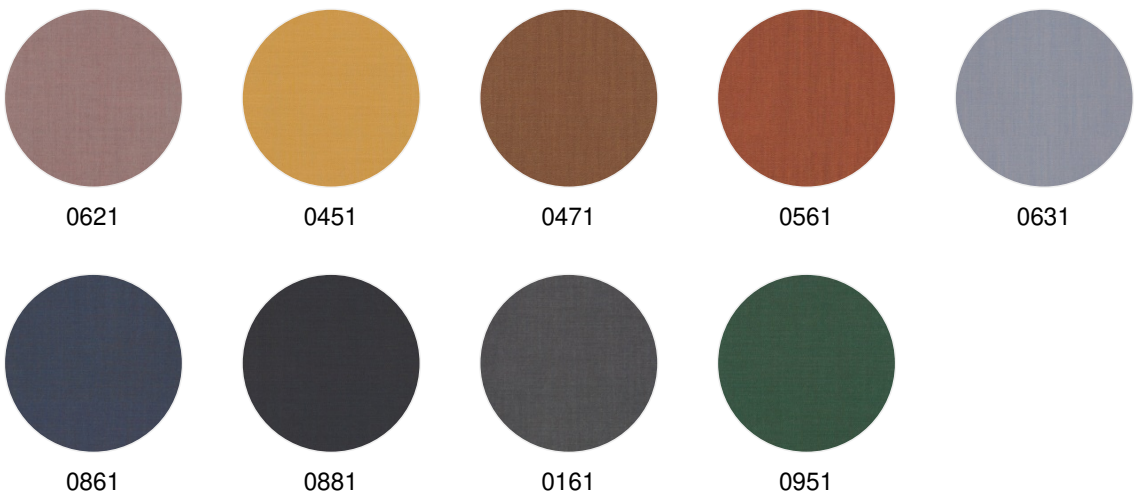

- As a T- or L-linked system, this acoustically effective wall stands freely in the room, does not require any additional foot stabilizer and can be covered with different materials
- Various surfaces can be selected within the system: melamine, whiteboard and fabric-covered (single and double-sided) are available
- Depending on the application, different widths are invisibly linked together. paravento XL can be combined with the textile room structuring system paravento and can also be used in the direct workplace environment.
- paravento XL is integrated into the desk and provides very high acoustic shielding
- In addition cables can be run invisibly to the desk
